STATE DISCLOSURE WARNING:

The Electoral Act 2002 (VIC) require both donors and recipients to disclose political donations worth $1,050 or more via the Victorian Electoral Commission (VEC) website within 21 days of giving or receiving that donation.

Donors must also disclose multiple donations given in the same financial year to a single recipient, which, when combined, add up to $1,050 or more.

Once the $1,050 donation disclosure limit has been reached, any additional donations given in the same financial year to that recipient must also be disclosed. This includes donations that are less than $1,050

Below is an example:

Donation from a donor to one recipient given in the same financial year
Donation	Amount	Donor and Recipient disclosure?
1	$530	No
2	$530	Yes (will need to disclose both donation 1 and 2)
3	$530	Yes

Prohibited Donors

Federal and State legislation prohibits political donations are banned from foreign donors. (i.e. any donor that is not an Australian citizen or resident, or a business with a relevant Australian Business Number)

Limits on Donations

From 25 November 2018, there is a cap of $4,080 from any one donor to any one recipient within an election period. Donors also cannot donate to more than six third party campaigners during the election period. Registered political parties, its endorsed candidates, groups and elected members and its nominated entity are all considered as one recipient for the purpose of the cap.
